

INTERNATIONAL

■ PM Narendra Modi's Economic and Foreign Policy Attracts Global Praise at UNGA Session

At United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) session, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi's economic and foreign policy has won praises from several Printed & Published by Monideepa Mukerjee, Director General, on behalf of Publications Division, Ministry of Information & Public Relations, Government of India, New Delhi-110011.

Noida-201301. Published from Employment News (Muzam) Ltd., Noida-201301.

developing and developed nations. UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres acknowledged the key role India can play in the success of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Some of the most powerful voices, including Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov, French President Emmanuel Macron, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy referred to India in a positive light. Countries like France, Jamaica, and Portugal also heaped praise on India. Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov explicitly backed India for a permanent seat. Foreign Minister of Guyana Hugh Hilton Todd also hailed India's growth trajectory observing that it has always been an economy that focuses on human development, putting humans ahead of any other form of development. Countries like Jamaica, Bhutan and Nepal expressed gratitude to India for supplying COVID-19 vaccines under 'Vaccine Maitri' initiative.

ECONOMY