

member state.

Dina Boluarte is the First Female President of Peru

Dina Boluarte has assumed office as the first female President of Peru. This comes after her predecessor Pedro Castillo announced plans to dissolve Congress and install an emergency government. He was subsequently impeached by the lawmakers and was detained by the police. Boluarte, the country's former Vice President, was sworn into the top job to become Peru's sixth President in under five years.