■ 'KTB - Bharat Hain Hum' Animation Series Honouring Unsung Freedom Fighters

The Ministry of Information and Broadcasting has introduced the KTB-Bharat Hain Hum Animation Series, a tribute to India's often-overlooked freedom fighters. The series, featuring fictional characters by the name of Krish, Trish, and Baltiboy (KTB), sheds light on untold stories of freedom fighters and their struggle for independence. The initiative is being aired by Doordarshan, Amazon Prime Video, and Netflix, keeping in mind the importance of educating viewers, especially children and students, about the lesser-known contributors to the country's freedom movement. The initiative is available in 12 Indian and seven international languages.
