■ US NSA Jake Sullivan Visits India as PM Modi Prepares for US Trip

National Security Advisor of the United States Mr. Jake Sullivan held a series of meetings during his recent visit to India, including a call on Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi. He briefed the Prime Minister on the progress made in various sectors of bilateral cooperation, emphasising that US President Mr. Joe Biden is eagerly awaiting the Indian PM' State Visit to the United States. Mr. Sullivan and India's External Affairs Minister Dr. S. Jaishankar discussed preparations for the PM's forthcoming visit to the US with focus on global strategic developments from the perspective of the India-US partnership. During his visit, the US NSA also held talks with his counterpart Shri Ajit Doval on a range of bilateral, regional, and international issues including advancing the India-US Initiative on Critical and Emerging Technologies (iCET), with a focus on areas such as quantum coordination and semiconductors. Both countries signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on semiconductors to kick-start the Indo-US quantum coordination mechanism.
