■ Indian Navy Gets Second Visakhapatnam Class Warship

The Indian Naval Ship (INS) Mormugao, the second stealth guided-missile destroyer of the "Visakhapatnam" class of missile destroyers, was commissioned on 18th December, 2022 in Mumbai by Defence Minister Shri Rajnath Singh. The vessel, designed by the Indian Navy's Warship Design Bureau and constructed by Mazagon Dock Shipbuilders Limited (MDL) in Mumbai, features over 75% indigenous content and is one of the most technologically advanced missile carriers in the world. The commissioning of the INS Mormugao marks a significant enhancement to India's maritime capabilities and demonstrates the country's growing indigenous defense production capabilities. The Minister of Defense praised the Indian Navy and MDL for their hard work and dedication in creating the vessel, which will meet the present and future needs of India as well as friendly countries around the globe.
