

STARS

THE LITTLE BLINKERS

Sivapooja M

STARS are frequently visible in our daily night sky. Some stars are clearly visible to the human eye. However, some are only seen through telescopes. It occurs because of the distance between the stars and the Earth. But did you notice that certain stars are slightly brighter than others? How is it? It also occurs at the same rate as the distance between the stars and our planet. The solution is simple: the brighter stars must be closer to Earth. Have you ever wondered where they
